CANADA'S NEXT GOVERNOR.

The Earl of Aberdeen Very Likely to be Lord Stanley of Preston's Successor.

Mr. Blake Speaks at Newcastle on Mr. Morley's Behalf, and is Warmly Welcomed.

The Duke of Devonshire Married Yesterday to the Dowager Countess of Manchester.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—The following special cable appears in this morning's Globe from London: I have high authority in confirmation of to-day's statement that the Earl of Aberdeen will succeed Lord Stanley as Governor General of Canada when the latter retires. It is believed that the post is one which the Earl, owing to his knowledge of and close interest in Canadian affairs, strongly desires to occupy. Mr. Gladstone, too, has a real friendship for the Earl of Aberdeen and is perfectly willing to meet his wishes. The selection is very generally praised here. It is not yet known whether Lord Stanley of Preston will complete his full term of office.

Hon. Mr. Blake had a grand welcome at Newcastle yesterday. He spoke for fully an hour to an immense mass meeting held on behalf of Mr. John Morley. There was a great outburst of cheering at the close of the speech, which was renewed and long continued when a gentleman called for three cheers for Irland's noble son.

A quiet wedding to which much interest is attached, took place to-day at Christ church. The Duke of Devonshire was the groom and the Countess Louisa, Dowager Duchess of Manchester, the bride. Sir Henry Calcroft was best man. Only a few of the friends of the parties knew that the marriage was to take place. It is generally known that the Duke of Devonshire (formerly Lord Hartington) entained a platonic affection for the bride, during the life time of her late husband.

THE SWITCHMEN'S STRIKE.

An Alarming Situation—General Tie-Up of Railways Threatened.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 17.—The situation this morning is most alarming and the danger can hardly be over-estimated. There are 1000 men on strike, with a probability of 300 or 400 more being added to the number in the next 24 hours. The strike in the Central & West Shore shortly after midnight caused much apprehension. The aim now seems to be a general tie-up. The wildest rumors prevail as to the probable outcome of the trouble, which the strikers predict may extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific, unless their demands are acceded to. Up to midnight the situation was not ominous. Only two arrests were made of strikers for rioting, and in one instance 25 policemen succeeded in dispersing a body of 2000 destructionists, but as the strikers grow in number more outbreaks are feared. The handling of freight by men imported to take the places of the strikers must necessarily be impeded, and it is not easy to foresee the outcome should the existing difficulty extend, as the strikers affirm it will from state to state. The strike on the Central was ordered by the strikers. A switchmen's union grievance committee of the New York Central waited on General Superintendent Voorhees yesterday afternoon for a final answer to their demands. Voorhess declined to grant them and last evening the climax came. The committee met at Kaiser's hall and decided to strike. An enormous traffic will be laid out by this strike, which will no doubt involve the Lake Shore road and perhaps all lines in Buffalo. The Delaware, Lackwanna and Western switchmen are plainly in sympathy with their striking brethren of the Lehigh Valley and Erie, and they will not probably remain long at work handling freight for other lines. The strike is extending and may be far-reaching in its consequences and disastrous to the business community.

BUFFALO, Aug. 17.—Rochester and Pittsburg switchmen struck at noon. It is reported by trainmen that all tied-up roads will go out within 24 hours. The sheriff has called on the governor for the entire state militia.

A Sham Fight.

CAMP WHITE, Niantic, Conn., Aug. 17.—To-day's battle at Gordon's Mills was supposed to be a sham encounter, but the victims in the hospital are inclined to a very different opinion. The third and fourth regiments proceeded to the battle ground, and half an hour after the battle began all military tactics were forgotten. It became a series of rushes and hand-to-hand encounters. A clubbing match with muskets resulted when the forces reached the bridge and twelve men were badly used up. The injuries are in most cases of a serious nature. The faces of the injured were filled with powder, the flesh was blown off and one man lost an ear. The officers of both regiments are being severely criticised for allowing their men to adopt such unusual tactics.

O'Donovan Rossa.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Wm. Doyle, an infirm old man, 63 years of age, arrived in this city about five weeks ago from the Sisters Hospital in Buffalo. His mission was to find O'Donovan Rossa to donate $50 towards the burning up of England. He gave a guide $6 to take him to the editor of the United Irishman, who told him in all candor that the old cause was dead and that if he insisted in donating the money it would be taken in return for a life subscription. Doyle gave him the $50. Rossa took the man to his home, and now Doyle claims that Rossa obtained $110 from him by false pretences and has retained counsel. It appears from the reports of the housekeeper with whom he subsequently boarded that Doyle's mind is unbalanced.

SEEN BY DAY LIGHT.

San Diegans Star-Gazing—The Moon and Mars Visible.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 17.—The streets are thronged with star gazers this morning. Some one discovered a star in the heavens and within a half hour hundreds of eyes were turned towards the sky. The star is of unusual brightness and appears in the southeast.

The weather is very warm and the atmosphere clear. The moon is also visible and it and the star are very bright. There is no unusual excitement but a great deal of wonder and almost everybody in town is gazing heavenward.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—In response to an enquiry from the United Press, Director Holden telephones from the Lick Observatory, that the star seen at San Diego is the planet Venus. He compliments the San Diegans on their clear sky rendering it possible to discern the planet plainly with the naked eye.

WASHINGTON DEFENCES.

The U. S. Capital to be Made Unapproachable on the River.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The Potomac River, which is the only water way approach to the national capital, after being practically unguarded for many years, is at last to be supplied with modern defences. During the present week the grim and gray battlements of old Fort Washington, 13 miles south of this city on a portion of the Potomac which is lined by high wooded crests, will witness a scene of unusual activity, as many workmen will be engaged in the task of constructing an efficient defence. The project contemplates empalements for four 12-inch modern guns on lifts, six 10-inch and three 8-inch guns on disappearing carriages, eight 12-inch mortars and extensive submarine mines, operated from two mining casements. The torpedo arrangement will be one of the most complete and destructive in the world. Immediately in front of the fort the Potomac curves gracefully, in the shape of a half moon, and the gun posted in the land batteries can deliver broadside as well as "bow on," and fire upon an advancing boat before the torpedo mines are reached. Plans have been also perfected for effectually obstructing the river at this point, should such be necessary. The sum of $117,000 from the general appropriation of Feb. 24, 1891, is now being expended on this work, and should that amount not prove sufficient, an allotment will be made from the appropriation passed at the session recently ended. Two hundred additional acres of ground at Sheridan's Point on the Potomac, contiguous to Fort Washington, have also been acquired by the Government, so that there may be no lack of room for the plant.

VANCOUVER.

The World last night published the following telegram: "Montreal, Aug. 9, 1892.—H. Abbott, Vancouver, B. C.: The newspapers report that a subsidy of $300,000 to the road to the south is likely to be given by Vancouver. If there is any probability of anything of that kind withhold the work on the terminal building. The directors are not disposed to expose any property to taxation for such a purpose. (Signed) W. C. VAN HORNE."

The case of the city vs. Spinks, for alleged violation of the quarantine regulations, has been dropped. Mr. Spinks will yet be heard from.

C. M. Maxwell has arrived from Portland to take charge of the business of the Edison General Electric Company for the province.

Dr. McGuigan continues to examine travellers, although the council declines to pay for his services. There is a good deal of feeling in the city that Davieism should be resented.

Ships in Distress.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The ship Annie H. Smith from New York for Puget Sound put into Stanley, Falkland Isl, with her rudder head sprung, and the loss of some sails. The ship San Joaquin, from New York for San Francisco, put into Stanley with the loss of her fore and mizzen top gallants and some sails. The bark Adolph Obrig from New York for San Francisco put into Stanley with her rudder head sprung and the loss of some sails and cargo shifted.

A Scottish Visitor.

OTTAWA, Aug. 17.—Mr. Copland, an alderman of Glasgow, Scotland, is here on his way to Victoria. He is in Canada to examine our system of street railways with a view to making a return as to the best means to be adopted by Glasgow when electricity is used in 1894.

Brief Dispatches.

BELLAIRE, Ohio., Aug. 17.—It has just come to light that W. S. Taggart, of St. Clairsville, this state, a prominent merchant and coal operator, is a forger to the amount of $12,000. He forged notes using the names of his father and his brother-in-law.

Ansonia, Conn., Aug. 17.—John Walsh had a narrow escape from lynching Monday night. His wife lay in bed with her new-born baby when he came home drunk, dragged her out of bed and clubbed her unmercifully. Officer Casey arrested Walsh, and as he came out with his prisoner the crowd raised the cry of, "lynch the brute," and would undoubtedly have done so had not the officer drawn his revolver. In the police court Walsh was fined $10 for the assault and $3 for being drunk, and in default of payment was sent to jail.

LIEUT.-GOV. NELSON'S VISIT

Charmed With the Black Diamond City—Service of Song—Attempted Suicide.

Six Men Missing—The Financial Meeting of the Methodist Church.

A Row at Wellington Ends in the Fatal Cutting of a Colored Man With a Knife.

NANAIMO, Aug. 17.—Lieutenant-Governor Nelson and wife were guests at the Hotel Wilson yesterday. During the afternoon the distinguished visitors were shown all the principal features in the city by mine Host and Hostess, and the drive was enjoyed immensely. The route taken by the party was through Northfield and Wellington, returning by way of Departure Bay. The Lieutenant-Governor will remain several days.

A harvest service of song will be given in St. Paul's church about the second Sunday in September. All the most talented lady singers have promised to sing on this occasion, and as it is some time since anything of this description has been given, it is presumed the church will be crowded. This event will be followed on the Monday evening by a secular entertainment in St. Paul's institute, which will be arranged in the form of a flower show. The whole proceeds will be devoted to the general funds of the church.

It was pleasant to notice the arrival of so many passengers to the city yesterday by the noon train. Many had begun to imagine Nanaimo had been tabooed, but the arrivals both by train and boat from Victoria convinced them otherwise.

The two longshoremen, Anderson and Tate, will be brought before Judge Harrison on Friday next. Mr. H. Simpson thinks he will be successful in the appeal when it is brought up for hearing, and now that the vessel is away he will have an advantage over the prosecuting attorney. Public sympathy is strongly in favor of the men.

A miner named J. W. Clark attempted to commit suicide on Monday while suffering from the effects of a prolonged spree. He attempted to take "Rough on Rats," and when his design was frustrated he made an attempt to slash his throat with a razor, but without any better success. A letter was found in his pockets stating he was determined to destroy himself as he was drinking too hard. Constable Gibbs arrived on the scene and took the man to gaol, where he will be kept till he has recovered from the delirium tremens.

Mr. P. Glynn states six men left Nanaimo last Thursday evening in a boat called the Black Boy, for Vancouver, and the latest dispatch says they have not turned up yet. Three of the men were experienced boatmen and members of the Coast Seamen's Union, while the other three were miners. It is feared the party may have met with a mishap or else they have lost their bearings. The men only had sufficient food in the boat for a couple of meals so that they would be anxious to get to the Mainland.

Mrs. M. A. Matheson appeared at the police court yesterday and swore out a warrant against a Chinese vegetable peddler for assault. It appears the Celestial claimed the woman owed him 50 cents which she refused to pay. The dispute became personal and was followed by blows and according to the deponent the Chinaman after giving her a good thrashing threatened to return on the morrow and blow her head off if the money was not paid. The Mongolian will be arrested and probably his version of the occurrence will be entirely different.

Yesterday afternoon the district financial meeting of the Methodist church opened in the vestry of the Wallace street church. The ministers and lay delegates present were:

Pandora avenue church, Victoria, Rev. C. Watson, and J. E. McMillan, lay delegate.

Centennia' church, Victoria, Rev. J. H. White, president of conference, and Noah Shakespeare.

James Bay, Rev. S. Wilkinson and R. Butler.

Victoria West, Rev. G. H. Morden and J. S. Collins

Saanich, Rev. R. J. Irwin.

Maple Bay, Rev. H. Sutherland.

Nanaimo, Rev. W. W. Baer and J. Lister.

Northfield, Rev. R. Wilkinson and R. J. Walker.

Wellington, Rev. A. E. Green.

Union, Rev. John Robson.

Cape Mudge, Rev. J. W. Galloway.

S.S. Glad Tidings, Rev. C. W. Tate.

The meeting opened at 2 o'clock, the Rev. J. H. White in the chair. The Rev. A. E. Green acted as secretary.

The morning was occupied in the discussion of the appropriations for certain missions which were in the most need. A resolution was passed recommending the Mission Society to grant such missionaries sufficient to supplement their salaries to the disciplinary amount. In the evening a communication was read from Westminster re the appointment of a superintendent of Chinese missions for the conference. Action was taken according to the judgment of the members present.

On the noon train yesterday Constable Maitland Dougall brought a man up from Koksilah to be tried for assaulting his mother. The man was sentenced to a month.

MURDER AT WELLINGTON.

A Colored Miner Named Dick Rowan Stabbed to Death.

NANAIMO, Aug. 17.—Last evening a party of colored folks were standing near Dave Ewan's house, at Wellington, when from out of the house came Jack Jones, another colored man, who, addressing them, said, "See what play has brought me to; liable to get a noose around my neck now." On hearing this strange talk the party investigated, and going in the house found one of their friends, Dick Rowan, also colored, lying on the floor in a dying condition from a wound in the body. The man died almost right away. Jack Jones, who acknowledged having stabbed him, immediately gave himself up to Constable Stephenson, who took him to the Nanaimo jail. Jones says that at the time it was done they were fooling and that he did not mean it. There is no other side to the tale, as there was only the two of them in the house at the time the terrible deed was done. The tragedy has caused quite a lot of excitement in Wellington.

The murderer was taken to Nanaimo gaol. He is about 28 years of age and unmarried. The cause of the tragedy is still unknown, but it is supposed the two men, who had been friends, had had a quarrel over a game of cards.

RETURNED THE WOMAN.

Loo Sam Frightened by the Highbinders—A Lawyer Does It.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 17.—Loo Sam, of Vancouver, several days ago ran away with Soo Ling, who is living with another Chinaman in that city. Loo Sam was threatened by the Chinese Highbinders and last night brought the girl back to Westminster. The ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance Union got Soo Ling and sent her to the Refuge Home.

J. A. Russell, of Yates, Jay & Russell, and Miss Jessie Miller, of Westminster, were married here this morning. They left on a trip to the East.

THE REPORT CONTRADICTED.

Seattleites Need Not be Afraid of Coming to Victoria on Saturday.

Mayor Beaven this morning received a dispatch from Mayor Ronald of Seattle, stating that about one thousand Seattleites wanted to come to Victoria on Saturday, but had heard that there were several new cases of smallpox in the city.

The mayor immediately sent the following reply to Seattle:—

VICTORIA, August 17, 1892.

The Hon. J. T. Ronald, Mayor, Seattle:

There has not been a case of smallpox in Victoria proper for the last 16 days.

There are 41 patients in the Jubilee Hospital, all are entirely out of danger, and convalescent. The hospital is two and one half miles from the postoffice.

At Ross Bay station for suspects, all will have been discharged by to-night.

Sailors from the Warspite have been granted their ordinary leave ashore by the admiral. This could not have been done if any danger from smallpox existed.

There is absolutely no danger to visitors from smallpox here.

The official reports published in the papers over the signature of the Provincial health officer are correct.

ROBERT BEAVEN, Mayor.

I have read the telegram sent by Mayor Beaven; it contains the exact truth concerning the condition of Victoria. (Sgd.) J. C. DAVIE, M. D., Provincial Health Officer.

BRUTALLY BEATEN.

Aggravated Assault Upon S. A. Flynn—His Deposition Taken.

This morning Chas. Tepoorten was released from the Ross Bay suspect station to be arrested on a charge of having, on the 27th of July last, committed an aggravated assault upon Stephen Austin Flynn, who now lies in a dangerous condition at the hospital. About noon Chief Sheppard, Magistrate Macrae and the prisoner went out to the hospital, when Flynn's deposition regarding the assault was taken. He could not identify Tepoorten as the man who assaulted him, but stated that about the date mentioned he went into the Louvre saloon, Johnson street, owned by the prisoner, when he and another man had some words and he struck the man a blow in the face, making his nose bleed. The bartender in the saloon then came and struck him (Flynn) in the neck, knocked him down and kicked him. After this the man whose nose Flynn bled, jumped on him (Flynn). He washed himself at a blacksmith's shop and then went over to the Indian reserve, where he remained three days. He became quite ill and called in Dr. Davie, who had him removed to the Hospital.

Flynn had numerous bruises on his body and in addition to these is the victim of other sores. His condition is critical, hence the necessity for taking his deposition.

It is reported that Dalton McCarthy has been offered a seat in the Imperial Parliament in the interests of the Irish Unionists.

H. M. S. Tartar arrived in Halifax yesterday morning from the West Indies via Bermuda. She is a third class cruiser of 1770 tons, and carries six guns.

The catch of white fish in Lake Winnipeg has been exceptionally good this season. The fish companies have already got all they want and have quit fishing.

Only 14,763 sheep have been exported from Montreal to England so far this season, as against 25,736 for the same period last year. The exporters lost heavily.

Percy Hollwell, aged 17, of Jamaica, West Indies, a pupil at the Upper Canada College, Toronto, who was with a camping party near Bracebridge, was drowned.

Jim, a burglar, who escaped at the time of the murder of Policeman Steadman in Moncton, N. B., has been committed to the general assizes for trial as accessory to the murder.

Montreal grain men are greatly pleased at the decision of the Government not to abolish the rebates on canal tolls this season. They say the interference would mean a severe loss.

About fourteen miles of the Canadian Pacific track from Vermillion Bay to Parrywood station have been washed out. Traffic was delayed twenty-four hours and there was no train from the east Tuesday.

The first victim of the electric street car system, which was inaugurated on Tuesday in Toronto, was a Rochester, N.Y., man named Seevick, who was struck by the inaugural car, and probably fatally injured.

The following special cable appears in the Globe from London: Trade at the Islington market to-day was dull in Canadian cattle. Last week's rates were barely maintained. The top price of cheese in Liverpool is 47s.

John Austin, employed as clerk in the Montreal office of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, has fled across the border, taking with him a small sum belonging to the company and $400 belonging to a couple of benefit societies with which he was connected.

The ten and four-year-old daughters of Amede Lachance, residing in the village of Lavaltrie, attempted to start a fire with the aid of kerosene. The result was an explosion, which set fire to the children's clothing, burning them so horribly that they died a few hours later.

Auguste Fortier and Arthur Pouliot, two young Montrealers, will leave for Africa about the middle of September. They will pass through Paris and then place themselves under the guardianship of Lieut. Mizon, the well known explorer. The object of their visit is to insure a route for the transport of French products between the Upper Congo and the Zambesi.

On September 20th a special general meeting of the Conservative party in Toronto will be held to receive the report of the committee appointed, in view of the increased representation for the Queen city in the Dominion Parliament and rumors of an early dissolution of the Local Legislature, to frame a scheme of reorganization. It has been decided to make the election of mayor and aldermen a party question hereafter.

A boy named Alex. Willie, late of Sault Ste. Marie, was accidentally drowned near Alexander, Manitoba, in the Assiniboine River. An eight-year-old child, daughter of an Alberta farmer, was thrown from a wagon and instantly killed. In an accident on the C. P. Railroad, east of Port Arthur, Engineer Fred Beaudra was instantly killed and Fireman Jonderau of Fort William received injuries so serious that he died the same night.

On Monday afternoon the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company's new steamer Columbian grounded in the middle of the Cedar rapids, just opposite Vaudreuil. These rapids have the reputation of being the worst in the chain, and the escape of the passengers from instant death by drowning was, indeed, miraculous. The Columbian, which was on her way from Kingston to Montreal, had about 200 tourists aboard. They were all safely landed.

The Montreal Star's special London cable says: "There is every reason to regard as official the belief expressed by the Daily News to-day that the Earl of Aberdeen is to succeed Lord Stanley of Preston, on the expiration of the latter's tenure of office as Governor-General of Canada. The selection is highly approved in Canadian circles here, in view of the Earl's knowledge of Canada, his interest in Canadian affairs and his pleasant personal qualities."

The new school bill has passed its second reading in the Northwest Assembly. The bill was modelled mainly on the British Columbia law. The old board of education has been replaced by a board of education composed of the executive council. Only one language (English) will be recognized, and clergymen are debarred from being trustees, teachers or inspectors. Uniform text books, kindergarten and night schools have been provided for. A few members made a fight for the French Roman Catholic separate schools, but the bill passed its second reading by 15 to eight. A series of resolutions also agreed upon the granting of liberal allowances for the maintenance of the schools.

Contingents from Buffalo, Rochester and Toronto took part in the procession and demonstration of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in Hamilton on Tuesday. There was a profusion of Irish and American flags displayed in the procession, but not one British or Canadian emblem. The marshals of the parade were remonstrated with by the police, but declined to yield to the request to carry a Union Jack. Great indignation was aroused among the citizens by the impudence of the visitors and preparations were made by some of the more ultra-loyal ones to give the procession a hot reception on its return from the park, but fortunately the procession did not re-form after the demonstration at the park, so a conflict was averted.

Ex-Attorney-General Martin, of Manitoba, at Montreal on his way home from England, said he was not afraid of any so-called remedial legislation which the Dominion Government might pass regarding the school case. He says: "There is only one way in which any Dominion legislation could affect us. There are certain lands set aside in the province by the Dominion for educational purposes, and I see it is suggested that they apportion part of these for the purpose of separate schools in Manitoba. Still that would not make much difference, for these school lands have been so grossly mismanaged that they are absolutely of no use to our schools. However, if part of them were set aside for separate school purposes they might be better managed."

Eugening, member of the Chamber of Deputies, presided and made a speech in which he attacked Jewish financiers and the plutocracy. DUBLIN, Aug. 16.—At Limerick yesterday a boat with three persons on board was moored in the harbor. The three turned in and went to sleep, leaving the fire in the cooking stove. The fire set the boat ablaze, and all were burned to death. The boat and cargo were also destroyed.

The French and Dahomey.

PARIS, Aug. 16.—Advices from Dahomey state that the French gunboat Heron, one of the blockading squadron, off the coast of Dahomey fired three times on Saturday on the African mail steamship Boma. The Heron sighted the Boma off Grand Popo and signalled her to stop. The Boma continued on her course and the commander of the Heron opened fire. The Boma then slowed up and the Frenchman came within hailing distance. The commander of the Heron demanded the papers of the Boma, pretending to believe that she carried contraband articles to Dahomey. The captain of the Boma protested, but eventually showed his papers. The matter has been reported to the Governor of Lagos. The latest news from Dahomey indicates that Colonel Dodds intends to inflict exemplary punishment on King Bohanzin. From the line of march between Porto Novo and Abomey devastation will be spread right and left and Abomey will be burned. The decisive action of the campaign is expected to take place at Kanagome, where Bohanzin has a military camp. According to last accounts when defeated, Bohanzin will flee probably to the upper river, if not poisoned by his priests in deference to the tradition that a king of Dahomey must never be conquered. Colonel Dodds commands 3,000 men, so that Behanzin's defeat is a foregone conclusion. The expedition from Wydah for Zobodome is under Commander Riou.

BUILDING NAVIES.

The Different Nations Turning Out Many Floating Fortresses.

From the New York Times.]

While the recent launch of the Columbia, the approaching launch of the harbor defense ram, the expected trial trip of the Monterey, and the authorization by Congress of a new armored cruiser and a new battle-ship are current tokens of American naval activity, it is well to keep an eye on the advance made by other nations. In Great Britain, to begin with, it is found that since 1886 nineteen armored vessels, at that time in various stages of construction, have been completed, while ten new armor-clads are in various stages of construction. These include eight great battle-ships, each of 14,150 tons displacement, having a speed of 17½ to 18 knots, and armed with four 13.5 inch rifles, ten 6 inch rapid fire guns and thirty-three guns in the secondary battery. Of these the Royal Sovereign is ready, the Empress of India, Hood, Ramillies and Repulse well advanced toward completion, and the Range, Resolution and Royal Oak building. There are to be launched this month the Barfleur and Centurian, each of 10,500 tons and eighteen knots, and carrying four 10 inch and ten 1.7-inch rapid-fire guns. The net gain in guns on the armored fleet since 1886 includes 256 heavy breech-loaders, besides 132 heavy rapid-fire guns and 791 smaller pieces. The unarmored vessels in the same period have increased from 118 to 212, or 235,218 tons, with 1431 additional guns of various calibers. In the programme for the coming year are three new battle-ships and five large torpedo gunboats.

France continues her vigorous naval development. At a recent date her dockyards were to have under construction 17 armor-clads and 9 protected cruisers, besides 3 torpedo vessels and 14 torpedo boats. According to Mr. Weyl, this year's Mediterranean fleet will consist of 23 ships, 9 being ironclads, and the Channel fleet of 12 ships with 6 ironclads, while there are other squadrons and a strong reserve fleet. France expects to have in 1895 34 sea-going and 228 other torpedo boats, some of the former having a speed of at least 25 knots. Her programme of construction for this year includes the beginning of three armor-clads, 5 other vessels, and 6 sea going torpedo-boats. The battle-ships will be of 11,000 and 12,000 tons, steaming 18 knots. Germany has not obtained all the ship-building funds needed for her plans, but is strong in her four 10,000 ton armor-clads of the Kurfurst Friedrich Wilhelm class and her coast defense ironclads. The armored cruiser Empress Augusta, launched early this year, has a displacement of 6,052 tons. Germany is well supplied with torpedo boats, of which she has 85.

Italy is also suffering from a lack of funds for ship construction, but is completing her three big ironclads, Re Umberto, Sardegno and Sicilia, of 13,251 tons, and various unarmored vessels. A fourth ironclad of the same type, with tonnage perhaps somewhat reduced, is in the programme for the coming year, together with two second class ironclads, six torpedo gunboats and ten torpedo boats. Austria is doing comparatively little in construction, but Russia is active, as always. A few new Russian ships is the Rurick, of 10,923 tons, while another armored cruiser of the same sort is in the new programme. This programme also includes three new battle ships of 10,960 tons of the Navarin type enlarged, besides two coast defense ironclads of 2000 tons and various other vessels. The battle ship George the Victorious, of 10,280 tons, will be completed next year, and the Three Saints, of 12,480, the year after. Spain has increased her navy estimates and still shows remarkable enterprise in cruisers and torpedo boats, but perhaps attracts relatively less attention than a few years ago.

Among the other powers China and Japan are still noticeable for their naval energy. Holland has her 4600 ton turret ram, with other vessels under way. Norway and Sweden are gradually adding to their force, the Swedish ironclad Thule, of 3135 tons, being worthy of mention. Denmark has an ironclad of 3290 tons under construction and one of 4500 tons projected. Greece has had to curtail her naval ambition somewhat since receiving her three ironclads built in France, and Turkey's naval force seems to retrograde. Brazil has ordered two small cruisers of Armstrong and a training ship in France, which latter country has furnished the small cruiser Saragosa to Mexico. Chile has not yet received her Capitan Prat, which caused her so much anxiety last winter.

A rapid glance over the naval progress of other nations gives us no reason to be dissatisfied with what has lately been accomplished by our own. Matters have greatly improved with us since Mr. Cleveland declared, in one of his messages, that "we have not a single vessel of war that could keep the seas against a first-class vessel of any important power." At that time the United States ranked nineteenth on the list of naval powers, being surpassed by such countries as Argentine and Portugal. Now it has gone ahead of most of the minor powers and we shall overhaul Spain and Germany in a few years more, leaving only Great Britain, France, Italy and Russia ahead of us.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

Dangerous Foods for Babies.

A HEALTH-GIVING DIET.

Many mothers who mean well, often err regarding baby's diet and feeding. We have heard of mothers feeding a baby with grains prepared as a porridge, with milk. The food is entirely unsuitable for infants, as it does not offer the proper proportions of albumen, sugar and fat; and it is well known by physicians that such food is actually irritating to the digestive canal. For the same reason, condensed milk is dangerous food for the little child.

Lactated Food is the only food that medical science can commend to mothers. While it is strengthening and fattening, it is suited to the weakest stomach. It allays all irritation and inflammation that may have arisen from feeding with other foods, and tends to make baby bright, hearty and happy. Are you using Lactated Food, dear mother? If not, try it at once, and your baby will soon show a marked change for the better.

SOME DATES.

The Colonist is on a search for more "information;" it now wants to be furnished with the dates of the civic authorities' movements to check the smallpox. Our neighbor might easily have found these by referring to its own columns, but we have no objection to affording it some assistance in this direction. It was on Thursday, July 7, we believe, that the City Council decided to erect a hospital on the reserve, and the next day the Ottawa Government put a stop to the work, which was already under way. On that same day, Friday, July 8, the council commenced the erection of the Ross Bay building, which it was prevented from using by the stupid injunction proceedings. On the Saturday, when the city was blocked in every other direction, the agreement was arrived at with the Jubilee Hospital authorities under which the latter provided the station on their grounds and took charge of the cases sent there. The hospital was erected on the following day, and the work of removing the patients proceeded with.

It was on July 19th that the Government was guilty of its first unwarrantable interference, when Dr. Milne was removed from office by the malevolent exercise of the powers conferred by the Health Act. As the Colonist will remember, the reputed cause for this action was Dr. Milne's refusal to carry out Dr. Davie's orders blindly and with the exercise of some care and judgment. For instance, he declined to remove to the Ross Bay station a number of persons who had already been quarantined for several days in the Clarence hotel, contending that as their proper quarantine period had nearly expired, and as there was a doubt whether some of them had actually been exposed to contagion, it would be better to let them finish out the 14 days where they were. And just here comes in another date which the Colonist should keep in mind. On July 21st Dr. Davie wrote a letter to the morning papers in which he announced that one of the Clarence "suspects" would be removed to Ross Bay, while "the remainder, upon an enquiry by Dr. Wade, are considered to have been so little exposed, or not exposed at all, that they will be immediately set at liberty." Two days before that date Dr. Milne had been removed from office because he objected to sending these same persons to Ross Bay, where they would been exposed to contagion beyond peradventure, and then turning them out amongst the people to spread the infection anew. Had Dr. Milne not refused to carry out Dr. Davie's orders in their entirety he would have exposed the city to fresh danger. The Colonist will please remember that July 21 was the date when Dr. Davie "gave himself away" and admitted that he had done wrong in persecuting Dr. Milne. It was also about the same time that "permits" to remain in their own homes were given by Dr. Davie to other "suspects" whom Dr. Milne declined to remove.

There are other dates in connection with the visitation which the Colonist may be pleased to have recalled. One is July 8th, when the Colonist showed its animus against Mayor Beaven by representing him as objecting to the erection of a smallpox hospital on the ground that "the Council had not the power to spend money for such a purpose." The Mayor had never said this, and the Colonist was but gratifying its desire to discredit him. Another date of interest to our neighbor is July 15th, when under the "thorough" system inaugurated by its friends the provincial authorities Daniel Mackay was forcibly removed from his home only to die as he reached the hospital. We may conclude by mentioning the fact that the date of Dr. Davie's visit to Vancouver to see that the health regulations were properly enforced there was Wednesday of last week, though he must have known long before that some of the things which he insisted on being done in Victoria were not done in Vancouver. On that occasion also he was severely sat upon by the Vancouver council and Health inspector, and, wonderful to relate, he has meekly accepted the rebuff.

If this feast of dates is not sufficient to appease the Colonist's appetite it may be possible to furnish it with a further supply at some future time.

WHERE THE RAILWAY IS MASTER.

Vancouver is just now feeling the light caressing hand of the Canadian Pacific. Certain people in that city came to the conclusion that it would be a good thing if a connection with the Northern Pacific road could be established, and the Council has taken steps to submit a by-law to bonus the connecting link to the extent of $300,000. But Mr. Van Horne at this juncture steps in and says his company will not erect its proposed new building for station and offices should the city adopt the by-law, because a portion of the taxes incurred under the by-law would be levied on the Canadian Pacific property. The company says it objects to being taxed to help bonus a rival road. The Vancouver people are by no means sure that in the event of the by-law being carried the company will be satisfied with stopping work on the building; there is said to be a danger that they will "move on" to to English Bay and leave Vancouver a sort of way station. How much danger there is of this being done we know not, but it may safely be predicted that the people will be strongly enough impressed to vote down the by-law. They may have a strong desire to secure a second railway, but it is not likely they will care to risk too much for it, and this is emphatically a case of a "bird in the hand." Nevertheless there seems to be a good deal of anger among our neighbors at the idea of the Canadian Pacific having the power and the will thus to check their enterprise in the direction of railway bonusing.

Another place is feeling the weight of the C.P.R. thumb just at present. This is the town of Macleod, across the Rocky Mountains, and directly south of Calgary. The Calgary and Edmonton Railway, which is practically a branch of the C.P.R., has been extended south to the vicinity of MacLeod, but instead of entering the old town the company bought a piece of property across the river and is endeavoring to start a town of its own, also to be called MacLeod. It proposed that the residents of the old town should move across to the new one, offering somewhat liberal terms, but the townspeople have almost unanimously refused. They say they will not abandon the property upon which they have lived for years, and on which they have effected improvements. They have decided to get their own town incorporated and to go on with such works as electric light and telephone systems. They further hope to receive the sympathy of the public, as the people of Edmonton did a few weeks ago in similar circumstances. The sympathy of the public will very likely be extended them, but it is to be feared it will not do them much good. If the public were to come in the way of a Canadian Pacific land speculation the Canadian Pacific people would be apt to apply Vanderbilt's famous objurgation.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Vancouver Council objects to paying for the services of the second health officer, who has been appointed by Dr. Davie to inspect passengers on the trains, and at its last meeting the city clerk was instructed to write to Dr. Davie to ascertain who was to pay the two officers. If that gentleman is as courteous as usual he will no doubt instruct the Vancouver Council that it must pay and ask no questions. The autocrat is still in power.

An American contemporary extracts from the statistical abstract of the United States the figures relating to the consumption of malt and spirituous liquors. It shows that 66,120,558 gallons of ardent spirits were consumed in 1875 and 91,157,565 in 1891. During the same period the population increased from 42,000,000 to 64,000,000, so that the ratio of 1.50 gallons in 1875 was reduced to 1.42 in 1891. From this it is seen that the per capita consumption of ardent liquor has decreased. In 1875 wine was consumed to the amount of 12,954,961 gallons, and in 1890 it had increased to 25,500,000 gallons, showing that the per capita use of wine had increased from .30 to .45 gallons. But if wine increased a little malt liquors jumped. The 294,953,157 gallons in 1875 became 977,479,761 in 1891, and the per capita of 6.71 became 15.25. From these figures it is argued that the prohibitionist cause is not advancing, while the temperance advocate need not be discouraged. So far as we can see, the figures do not offer very much encouragement to either prohibitionist or temperance advocate. They seem to show that our neighbors are pretty hard drinkers.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

Persons having private grievances and disputes are not requested to hand in their cases to the TIMES office. It seems almost unnecessary to state this, but the constant application to the undersigned by grievance-mongers to expose their private wrongs makes the necessity for this item. I was stopped on Yates street and requested to suggest to the editor that he should rigidly exclude articles and notes on —— and within one minute another citizen wished that this very subject should be thoroughly threshed out. It is possible that the TIMES editor, who is a very martinet in newspaper work, thinks he knows how to run a paper as well as the thousands of readers of the TIMES. Anyway his temper is so touchingly sweet and placid that I would not for the world hint at any more latitude to the grumblers of Victoria.

The Chinese present an object-lesson to many of our working men. In all winds and weathers, in out-of-the-way places, the Chinese peddler is to be seen patiently carrying his heavy burden of vegetables and fish, dry-goods and notions, to the housekeepers of our fair city. And although husbands may frown and editors write scathing articles, yet the ladies cannot overcome the temptation to bargain with the heathen Chinee. John, however, usually knows how to hold his own, and undisturbed by threats nor moved by smiles, he manages to effect his sales. If many of the working men standing on the corners of our business streets would be as ready to utilize their spare hours as the ubiquitous Celestial, there would be probably less complaint of hard times.

There will, I fear, be grave opposition to the new by-laws that the Corporation are proposing. The sewage by-law, necessary as it is, finds many opposers for various reasons. The board of health by-law will pass probably because although many citizens will regret paying money for useless extravagance ordered by the "Davie" brothers, yet not to pass it would probably cause great difficulty to the Corporation. I sincerely hope that not one single vote will be cast adverse to the library by-law. The library is a perfect disgrace to the city, the few volumes of standard authors having been so frequently used that they scarce hold together, and the librarian, Dr. Macgregor, always seems to want to apologize for the poor wares he has to vend. Three thousand dollars per year is a very, very small sum for the corporation of this city to expend in a library, and were it not for the unexpected amounts needed for board of health purposes I should gladly have seen it doubled or trebled. One phase of the matter struck me as rather singular. I saw a little knot of property holders discussing the proposed by-laws with angry vehemence with a new-fledged alderman, one of the disputants affirming that a poll tax levied on the male population of the city would be the most equitable. With a want of gallantry, for which I hope to be forgiven, I urged that the ladies should possess this franchise as well as the men. Then I made tracks!!!

I have heard of two cases of counterfeit notes, or bank bills. In one case a bill was tendered of an American bank that had stopped payment, in another an actual counterfeit. I trust the merchants will be on their guard, so that as little as possible of the "flimsy" will make its way to this city. If any merchant is tendered a note of this kind, he should before allowing the tenderer to leave his store, be satisfied of the bona fides of the transaction. Merchants should do this in their own interest as well also as the general interest of the city.

I saw a letter from a lady on the Sound that was most affecting. A few weeks ago her eldest son was gored to death by a wild steer, while engaged in his usual business. The mother was prostrated with grief and for a while her own health was affected by the intelligence. Just as she was recovering she received the sad news that her youngest son had died of smallpox in Victoria. It will be remembered that Burrows—the name of the young man in question—leaped into the sea at Albert Head while in delirium from the effects of which he died, and it is supposed the whereabouts of his mother could not be obtained for a few days. "Me have ye bereaved of my children Joseph is not, and Simeon is not."

For Alaska.

The steamer Islander sails for Alaska via Vancouver at 8 o'clock this evening. The following ladies and gentlemen have taken passage from this city:—Mrs. J. V. A Queer Dumping Ground.

A Yates street merchant this morning threw about a dozen rats, that had been killed by dogs, into the middle of the street. This is not the first time that it has been done, and as the street is not by any means improved by the action of the merchants the police should take a hand in the little affair and see that those who have dead rats get rid of them some other way.

Rumors of Foul Play.

There are rumors current among the Indians at Beecher Bay, that the wife of Charlie who was drowned off Albert Head on Saturday, was helped out of the boat by her husband, although there is no evidence in support of the case. It is also said that the woman had in her possession when she left Victoria $110, and there are numerous searchers for the body.

Garden Fete.

The Victoria City Band will give another garden party at the Victoria Gardens on Saturday evening, August 20. Boats will leave Dan McIntosh's boathouse at 8 o'clock sharp, returning at 11:30. Dancing from 9 to 11:30. Fare for the round trip, including dancing, 50c. Invitations may be procured of members of the band and at Jamieson's bookstore.

Commenced Building.

Mr. W. Dalby has got a gang of men at work excavating for a brick building that he intends to erect on his property, extending from Pandora to Cormorant streets and facing on Broad street. This is the property that it was thought desirable for the city to obtain for the purpose of continuing Broad street through to Cormorant street. A petition is now being circulated with that object in view.

He Was a Canadian.

A correspondent writes that Riggin, the boatswain's mate of the U. S. Baltimore, who was killed by the mob at Valparaiso and whose body was interred at Philadelphia on Sunday last with naval and military honors, was not an American but a Canadian by birth. His father, who still resides in Queen's county, P. E. I., has put in a claim to the American Government for heavy damages on account of the loss of his son.

Garden Party.

There will be a pleasant time at the popular resort Victoria Gardens, tomorrow evening. The beautiful grounds will be lighted up with Oriental lanterns and Prof. Finn's City Band will provide music for a promenade concert, and also for dancing in the Gardens Hall. Mrs. Davies will supply refreshments, and has made every arrangement so that those who visit the Gardens will be sure to have a pleasant time. This garden party and open-air promenade concert will undoubtedly prove a more than ordinary attraction to a spot worthy a visit on a summer's night.

Wedding Bells.

Yesterday evening Christ Church Cathedral was the scene of a union of hands and hearts in which two young people of the city were the principals. John Alfred Hurley, one of the well known employees of the Albion Iron Works, was united in marriage to Miss Alice Maria Thompson, daughter of the late Henry Thompson of this city. Rev. Canon Beanlands performed the ceremony, while Miss Amy Thompson acted as bridesmaid and William Burton acted as best man. Mr. D. J. Thompson gave the bride away. The twain made one, left on the Kingston last night on a visit to the Sound cities, followed by the best wishes of many friends.

Eastern Sugar.

One hundred and fifty packages of Novia Scotia sugar arrived in the city last evening over the N. P. R., for Messrs. Fell & Co.

The remaining "suspects" at the Ross Bay station will be discharged this evening. The buildings will be destroyed immediately.

Fish Exhibit.

Fisheries Inspector McNab, who has been authorized to obtain exhibits of fish for the World's Fair, was in town yesterday. He will immediately commence to make arrangements for the exhibit. It is probable that some of Cunningham's frozen salmon will be sent.

In the Supreme Court.

The case of Clarke vs. the San Juan Fishing Co., an application for the appointment of a receiver, came up in the Supreme Court this afternoon before Mr. Justice Crease. Judgment will be given for the defendant with costs, including all witness fees. Drake, Jackson & Helmcken appeared for the plaintiffs, and Mr. Walls for the defendant.

A Pioneer's Death.

The death of H. P. Cornwall, of Ashcroft, a brother of Hon. C. F. Cornwall, ex-Lieut.-Gov., is anounced. He was a native of England, and came to the province a number of years ago and settled at Ashcroft, where he engaged in cattle ranching. He had been ill for some time past and died on Monday evening. He was attended, at his death, by Bishop Sillitoe.

Broad Street.

A petition to the City Council signed by over 200 ratepayers, praying that Broad street may be extended from Pandora street to the city market, will be presented to-night. This improvement should be carried out, and it can never be done more cheaply than now. A building is about being started on a portion of the vacant pound that would be expropriated were the street to be extended.

Will Not Pick Hops.

The Vancouver Island Indians have almost unanimously come to the conclusion that they will not go over to Washington this year to pick hops for the growers in that state. Last year although they worked hard they did not make much money and brought practically nothing home with them. Fishing returns them a fair remuneration and they will not go to the hop field as they are satisfied they cannot make as much there as by staying at home.

For Darcy Island.

The leper Lee Sing was moving around the city to-day, but will be sent away soon. Dr. Milne examined him several days ago, and after consultation with Sanitary Officer Bailey, made arrangements for his removal to Darcy Island on Saturday. The report that the doctor reported this a case of syphilis is a stretch of someone's imagination. The boat leaves for Darcy Island on Saturday morning, and as there is necessity for winter clothing for the lepers, donations for such use will be thankfully accepted by Mr. Bailey up to that time.

McNiel-English.

The wedding bells told another happy story this morning. At 8 o'clock John McNiel, one of the efficient drivers of the Victoria fire department, led to the altar at the R. C. pro-Cathedral Miss Alice English, and Rev. Father Nicolaye officiated at the impressive marriage ceremony. Dan. McDougall, senior driver for the department, who has a happy faculty of helping his juniors in matrimonial matters, supported the groom, while Miss Steel assisted the blushing bride. The happy pair left on a honeymoon jaunt to Goldstream. Congratulations.

The Flagship's Turn Next.

H.M.S. Warspite will go into drydock to-morrow morning or Friday. No further examination of the lower hull of the big boat has been made, but it is known that a huge rip exists in her bilge some thirty feet abaft the foreroot; whether the rock gored her steel plating further aft is not known, but is regarded as altogether probable by marine men spoken to who have heard the details of the accident. There is not a great deal of room left in the drydock when the Warspite is inside, and her presence there affords an excellent opportunity for examining from every point of view the most formidable fighting ship in Pacific waters.

Death From Natural Causes.

Yesterday evening an inquest was held on the body of Ah Pin, a Chinese infant, found dead in bed at the Refuge Home yesterday morning. In the absence of Dr. Hasell in quarantine at Ross Bay, Coroner Walbron, of Duncan's, conducted the inquest. Miss Leask, matron of the home, testified that yesterday morning about 6 o'clock she went to the room occupied by the mother of the child on hearing a cry of distress. She found the child lying on the bed, apparently lifeless, but still warm. Dr. Fraser, who was called in, stated that he tried to revive the child by artificial respiration, but to no purpose. He made a post mortem examination, which showed that the child's heart was unsound. In his opinion the death was from natural causes and not from any neglect. The jury returned a verdict of "death from natural causes."

MAYOR BEAVEN REPLIES.

Extraordinary Temerity Shown by the Mayor of Victoria in Talking to the Czar.

Plain, Unvarnished Facts for the Edification of the Autocrat of B. C.

The following letter was sent to Premier Davie yesterday by Mayor Beaven. It is a reply to a letter received by the mayor from that high functionary last week, and published in Mr. Davie's private organ (No. 2.) on the 11th inst.:

VICTORIA, 16th August, 1892.

Hon. Theodore Davie, Premier, &c.:

SIR,—Circumstances precluded an earlier acknowledgement of your letter of the 9th.

You also are seemingly unaware or ignore some important points. The Provincial Health Rules, 1892, the Supplementary Provincial Health Regulations, 1892, the Declaratory and Amending Health Rules, 1892, all claim to be passed under the "Health Act as it appears in the Consolidated Statutes, 1888." I understand you are the framer of the above rules. The "Health Act" above mentioned is the "Health Ordinance, 1869," which was passed when British Columbia was a Crown Colony and possessed of more extended powers in some particulars than is now enjoyed by the Provincial Executive, the Governor possessing almost autocratic power. A general municipal act was unheard of in the colony at the time the "Health Ordinance" was passed. Victoria and New Westminster each had special statutes conferring upon them very limited and restricted municipal rights. Shortly after confederation, when the former English Colony became a Province of Canada and possessed responsible government, which form of government you are supposed to administer, a general Municipal Act was passed and in due course the Legislature declared that each and every "ordinance" and "act" which was inconsistent with or repugnant to the "Municipal Act" was repealed so far as municipalities are concerned. The House of Commons of Canada also declared that the portion of the "Health Ordinance, 1869" which related to quarantine matters was also repealed.

"The Health Ordinance of 1869" is thus practically obsolete in most of its provisions within the limits of a municipality.

The consolidators of the statutes in 1888 brought forward the "Health Ordinance, 1869," in a somewhat modified form, and styled it the "Health Act." The portions referring to quarantine were eliminated but no reference made to the changes produced by the municipal act. In 1889, after the consolidated statutes were printed, the Legislature once more declared that each and every act which was inconsistent with or repugnant to the "Municipal Act" was repealed so far as municipalities were concerned.

This shorn, attenuated, obsolete statute, known as the "Health Act," is the one upon which you claim to have based your action as regards the properly constituted municipal authorities in this city and to confer upon you the right to close the avenue to the fountain of justice, unless your assent be first obtained.

As I remarked before, the Health Act is the statute upon which you claim to base your rules; but section 24 of the Provincial Health Rules, 1892, (to which you refer me, but of which your quotation is only a portion) is not in accord with section 6 of the Health Act, and is also inconsistent with and repugnant to the Municipal Act.

Your rule 27, says: "All expenses incurred by any Provincial Health Officer or Municipal Health Officer or Inspecter and within the scope of his duties shall be borne and paid by the city where such expenses are incurred." In contra-distinction to this, section 6 of the Health Act says that the corporation of the city of Victoria shall provide for any expenses incurred or officers or servants employed by them. You are seeking, therefore, by your rules to impose a burden upon the city which even the shorn, attenuated and obsolete statute never contemplated in its first and original amplitude. I have said that rule 27 is also repugnant to the provisions of the "Municipal Act." That statute says in effect that a municipal council shall not have the power to incur any liability beyond the municipal revenue for the current year, unless three-fifths of those persons who are assessed for real property shall first have consented to the debt being contracted. Yet in the face of this provision in the statute, you claim the power to authorize persons who have no status as municipal councillors to contract liabilities in the name of the corporation and threaten to authorize the sheriff to levy upon the property of the ratepapers if such debts are not paid by the council.

With regard to bills contracted for smallpox cases, I feel assured that I voice the sentiment of a large number of the citizens when I say that the city desires to pay every one fairly, but they expect the proper municipal authorities to examine and decide upon every account before payment. Another thing you seem to be unaware of is that a municipal by-law does not become law until it is published in the British Columbia Gazette. A compliance with your "stand and deliver" demand for immediate payment of certain accounts would have compelled the auditor to ignore that portion of the statute. This is somewhat strange in view of the very proper suggestion made by the commissioners you appointed last year (but whom you asked the city to pay) viz., that the auditor should have independent duties to perform. This has been accomplished not by anything you have done, but by the voluntary act of the present city council. If the auditor had been awed into compliance with your demand I am quite sure that I should have declined, under the circumstances, to countersign the cheque.

I observe the trouble you have had in framing your now celebrated rules to suit yourself. In your latest production it appears to have dawned upon you that the first and second issue of rules were rather unintelligible to the ordinary mind, hence with your usual urbanity you have undertaken to declare their true construction and intent. I confess to having read them all and to being still at a loss to understand them. It does seem to me to be wise on your part under the circumstances, therefore, to adopt the course I imagine you have decided upon, viz., to assume that the Health Act makes the Executive Council into a Legislature, and this Legislature makes you the judge as to the intent and meaning of the rules manufactured by the so-called Legislature. It is an amalgamation of legislative and judicial functions quite unique in the administration of constitutional government. It does away with the difficulty of obtaining a majority of the representatives in the Legislative Assembly who see things as you desire them to.

It will surprise me if you ever have another opportunity to repeat the attempt after the Legislative Assembly convenes. I have said that the governor of a crown colony was possessed of almost autocratic power and that the "Health Ordinance, of 1869" was passed during that period in the history of British Columbia. I am not an admirer of that form of government, but it must be remembered that the men placed in such a position and clothed with such power were usually men of experience, judgment, education and tact, and who understood exercising power with discretion. Yours truly, ROBERT BEAVEN.

The following reply to the above was received by Mayor Beaven at noon today:—

ROBERT BEAVEN, Esq, M.P.P., Mayor, Victoria.

August 17th, 1892.

SIR:—I am this morning in receipt of your lengthy communication of date the 16th August, which, I think, calls for no further notice, than to draw attention to the fact, and to express regret, that it did not occur either to yourself, or to the Counsel for Dr. Milne, and the City, to urge before the Supreme Court upon the recent argument, resulting in the displacement of Dr. Milne from the position of Health Officer in smallpox matters, that the "Health Act" under which such displacement proceeded, was, as you now contend, "shorn attenuated and obsolete," and the rules thereunder consequently void. In place of this line of argument you permitted it to be assumed throughout that the "Health Act" was valid and unimpeachable, contenting yourself merely with discussing the construction which the Act was to receive, when to have impeached the validity of the Act would have necessitated a decision on the point which if favorable to you, must and would have promptly reinstated Dr. Milne in the position from which he had been ousted, and have settled in your favor every point for which you were contending.

Under these circumstances you cannot, I think, now that the litigation is over, expect any one to attach weight to legal contentions which you did not, when opportunity offered, consider worthy of being laid before the Supreme Court. Yours truly,

THEODORE DAVIE.

RESULT OF A ROBBERY.

Thos. Keating Charged With Bringing Stolen Goods Into Canada.

Thomas Keating, lately employed on the City of Kingston as a waiter, was up in the police court this morning charged with bringing stolen goods into Canada in the form of a watch valued at $10. Mr. Walls appeared for the prisoner and pleaded not guilty. Colet Perkins, of Dungeness, Wash., testified that on May 2 he went to Port Townsend on the City of Kingston and met the prisoner and two other men on the boat. When the steamer landed at Port Townsend the prisoner and two other men invited him up to a saloon to get a drink, and on leaving the place led him to the wrong wharf, where they knocked him down and robbed him of a watch and $65. The watch produced in court was the watch taken from him. Slavin, one of the men with Keating in the robbery was convicted at Port Townsend and sent to prison. The third man was not found.

A. F. Adams, bar tender at the Palace saloon, testified that about the time robbery was said to have taken place, the the prisoner left him a parcel containing a watch, which watch he gave to Sergeant Walker. Sergeant Walker identified the watch produced as the one given him by Adams.

Mr. Walls objected to the evidence of Adams because he did not take the usual form of oath, and the court reserved judgment till to-morrow.

John Doherty and Frank Orsten admitted fighting on Yates street last night and were each called upon to pay a $10 fine.

S. Shoran paid $5 on being convicted of an infraction of the thistle by-law. A similar charge preferred against H. E. Croasdaile was adjourned till Monday and one against F. G. Richards, jr., was dismissed.

Louis Moser was summoned before the court on a charge of larceny, by defrauding Morris Marks of 12 shirts. On application of Mr. Morphy, for the defendant the case was adjourned till Saturday.

REWARD FOR A BRAVE

The Hero Found After Several Months' Search by the British Government.

For months the British government, through its consuls and other representatives, has been endeavoring to locate Thomas Barr, an humble mechanic, formerly an ablebodied seaman on the British steamship Cyprus, to reward him for heroism and bravery at sea. Recently Captain Robert Clipperton, the British consul here, succeeded in finding Barr working at Cramp's shipyard, having tired of the sea, and his bravery will now be fittingly recognized.

During the terrible storm of Sept. 30 of last year, when a violent gale of days' duration scattered the north Atlantic ocean with wrecks of many stanch and noble vessels, the Cyprus, of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, commanded by Captain Edward Guild, bound from Philadelphia, narrowly escaped foundering.

In the midst of this roaring gale a sinking, waterlogged and unmanageable sailing vessel was sighted laboring and straining in the trough of the sea. Immediate relief seemed out of the question, as the Cyprus herself was hove to and endeavoring to weather the gale with the seas breaking over her bulwarks with terrific force, nothwithstanding the skill displayed by the officers in charge of her. A call for volunteers was made from the Cyprus' crew, and the first to respond was Barr. He was soon followed by John Hartley, Edwin Hicks and James Embley, all ablebodied seamen, and Chief Officer Sandholm ordered the small boat launched, with himself in command. The sea was running to the height of the mainyard and the crests of the waves were white with foam.

By the tattered and torn code signals, as they hung to what remained of the vessel's upper rigging, it was learned that the vessel was the Canadian brigantine Clara, of Yarmouth, N. S. The crew were tied fast to the rigging, as every lurch she made it was feared she would turn bottom up and throw all hands into the sea. Chief Officer Sandholm was soon near the vessel, but too close meant destruction of the small boat and death to all.

Orders were given for the men to jump overboard on the lee side of the ship. They obeyed, and as they came up were grabbed by Barr and others and taken on the Cypress, nearly famished and half dead from exposure.

The Canadian government has forwarded to the British board of trade substantial rewards for the crew that made the rescue, together with Captain Guild, who successfully managed his vessel in one of the wildest storms that ever swept the Atlantic and saved every soul on the Clara. A bill of exchange for several pounds sterling will be given Barr, beside a testimonial from the Canadian government for bravery.—Philadelphia Record.

New York's First Street Railway.

Besides having the distinction of being the first horse car line in New York city, the New York and Harlem, now commonly known as the Fourth and Madison avenue line, has the honor of being the first street railway in the world. The line was incorporated on April 25, 1831, and the first cars were run in November, 1832, from Prince street to Harlem bridge. The cars were almost like the stage coaches that were in use then, each having three compartments with side doors. They had leather springs, and the driver sat on the elevated seat in front and moved the brake with his feet. The first cars were built by John Stephenson.

The opening of the road excited a great deal of interest and the streets along the route were crowded with spectators. The mayor and the members of the city council and other invited guests occupied the cars. It was thought by many that there would be great difficulty in stopping the cars and avoiding accidents to other vehicles. One of the officers of the road determined to demonstrate that the cars could be brought to a dead stop with ease, and after having instructed the driver he stationed himself with some witnesses at the corner of Bond street and the Bowery to await the arrival of the first car. At his signal the driver was to stop with all possible haste. The driver of the first car, having had some experience, brought his car to a stop easily, but the driver of the second car forgot the lever of the brake and simply drew hard on the horse lines and shouted "Whoa!" The car slid along and the tongue crashed into the rear of the forward car and caused the occupants thereof to jump out. No one was hurt, and the cars moved on their way to Harlem bridge. This is the first street car collision on record.—New York Sun.

The Emperor's Message to Bismarck.

During one of the German emperor's recent journeys his majesty passed Friedrichsruh, and, without any notice or warning given, he ordered the train to be stopped and sent up a message to Prince Bismarck that he was at the station and would be glad to speak with him, requesting him to come down and see him in his saloon. Bismarck was somewhat taken aback at this sudden summons, but it seems that in spite of the peculiarity of the way in which it was done he had already made up his mind that he would go to the station, when the princess and her son, Count Herbert Bismarck, heard of the affair and at once did their best to dissuade him.

They represented that the whole way in which he had been summoned to the station was not correct; and in the end a messenger was sent down, who informed the emperor that Prince Bismarck was unable to carry out his wishes, as he was indisposed. Hereupon the emperor gave orders to go on, and the attempt at a reconciliation thus proved a failure. The German emperor has since congratulated Count Herbert Bismarck on his engagement to Countess Hoyos. It must be admitted that his majesty has done all in his power to smooth down the unpleasant state of affairs that has for so long existed between Bismarck and himself. At present the German papers are full of rumors about a reconciliation which is to take place between kaiser and kanzler; but the incident that I have narrated has remained a dead secret until now.—Vanity Fair.

Thirty-eight Years an Engineer.

Who in western New York, on the Niagara Falls branch of the Central, has not seen or ridden behind "Old Browser," who runs the morning accommodation out of the Falls, reaching Rochester when the finger of time is nearly on the point of 10 and returning as the shadows are pointing toward 5? Truly he is a graybeard, and from October, 1853, has looked out of his keen eyes along the shining rail to see that all was right ahead, for he has carried in over thirty-eight years nearly 5,000,000 of human beings and has not killed one passenger. In drawing this vast number of accidentable persons he has wheeled the circuit of this globe over sixty-six times, near 2,000,000 miles. Where in this or any other country is an engineer who has a living record of this character?—Rochester Union and Advertiser.

BERLIN, Aug. 15.—According to reliable diplomatic information received here China has addressed a strong representation to Russia, protesting against the occupation of the Pamir country by Russians as a breach of the treaty of Lividia, which fixed the frontier 100 miles north of Aktash, where the Russians are encamped. The governor of Chinese Turkestan has sent troops to protect the frontier.

AN INDIGNANT PROTEST.

TO THE EDITOR:—Another case of brutal disregard of common civility and justice was noted this afternoon on the three plank temporary sidewalk in front of the new Adelphi building, Government street. Four men in gentlemen's clothes stopped to talk in the middle of the way, completely blocking all traffic. Two ladies came along and endeavored to get past the jabbering loafers without leaving the sidewalk. The fellows not only made no attempt to make way for the ladies, but actually grinned and leered in their faces in derision as they stepped off into the roadway and walked around to the other end of the walk. Is there no man with courage enough to turn in and whip such pests? I'm sure one decent man could thrash half a dozen of them, and thus set a glorious example to the rest of the numerous tribe and teach them not to trifle with the unwritten laws of chivalry and politeness. If I were a man, Mr. Editor, I should take a good thick stick and clear that walk every time any of the class I have described dared impede my passage a moment. Yours truly,

BRITISH COLUMBIA COLLEGE.

Establishment of a New Methodist Seminary at Westminster.

New Westminster now possesses a college, the British Columbia College, operated under the auspices of the B. C. Conference of the Methodist Church. The prospectus of the institution, just issued, shows that the intention is to conduct the college on broad and modern principles, and fit its students with a very complete education and training for the battle of life. The college is for both sexes, and ladies and gentlemen will be prepared for matriculation in arts, law, medicine, science, and for graduation in arts and theology. All the usual university subjects are taught. English in all its branches; the classics, mathematics, philosophy, science, logic, rhetoric, with the usual adjuncts of painting, music and so on. A commercial course will fit young men for business duties; a normal course for those desiring to follow the teaching profession. The college year is divided into two terms; from September 1st to December 22nd; January 5th to June 8th.

The prospectus contains the following summary of the objects of the college: "Students will be under the careful supervision of the principal and lady principal respectively. All will be expected to attend divine service in some church on Sunday. Everything possible will be done to refine the manners, elevate the tastes, develop the moral principles and ennoble the characters of the students. At the same time all sectarianism will be carefully excluded from the teaching and other exercises of the college, and no interference with denominational preferences of students will be permitted. The managers and faculty will spare no labor or expense to make the institution worthy the confidence and patronage of the people of British Columbia. Parties desirous of entering as students are requested to correspond with the principal, Rev. R. Whittington, New Westminster, B.C."

The following are the trustees, managers, etc., of the college:

Visitor—The Reverend the President of the Methodist Conference.

THE JUBILEE HOSPITAL.

To the Editor:—"Pioneer" struck the right note in yesterday's Times. It is well we should remember the whole history of the outbreak of smallpox here. In the anxiety to pile up honors on the medical czar, as well as the political czar, we are apt to forget the good work done by the council and the city health officer. Let it be repeated how the Jubilee Hospital authorities flatly refused to have anything to do with the first cases, and this is a reason why we should have a city hospital to which every poor person may have access, without let or hindrance. What is the Jubilee Hospital at present but for the convenience of pay patients?

A person may visit a pay patient at any time by applying to one of the clique who run the hospital, but what about our poor relatives in the public wards? We cannot see them till further orders, and that is another reason why we should have a city hospital, and not be depending upon one for the classes against the masses.

Back east our hospital affairs were not governed in the way things are here, and, therefore, there was no such strife as there is between the doctors in Victoria, and every poor man felt he had a common interest in the hospital.

I cannot help thinking the directors are very much to blame in allowing Dr. Davie, or any other individual, to rule things with such a high hand. I have had a talk with the doctor who attends my family, and he says, "Go to St. Joseph's; you will get fair play there." I should like my fellow workingmen who know how things are run at the Jubilee to explain themselves on this matter.

GIMLET.

THE BROKEN SEWER PIPES.

To the Editor:—In looking over the City Council's proceedings of Wednesday evening last, as published in your paper, I observed among other matters brought before that body a letter from Chief Engineer Mohun, giving his opinion as to what caused the pipes to break in the Johnson street sewer. It appears very clear from Mr. Mohun's letter that when he first looked into the matter, he was convinced that the pipes were broken by pressure, but, strange to say, he dropped his own opinion, which was no doubt correct, and should have been far superior to any person under him, and adopted the suggestion of Mr. Harrison, that the pipes were broken by concussion during the blasting on Wharf street.

In all due deference to Mr. Harrison's great knowledge of sewerage matters and broken pipes, it is very evident to any person who carefully examined the broken pipes, and is competent to judge of the breakage, that the pipes were never broken by concussion, but simply by pressure from above, the pipes not being properly tamped on the sides to counteract the pressure on top. The pipes were nearly all broken in the same way, viz., along the top, sides and bottom, which makes it very clear to any person acquainted with the matter that it was pressure that broke them, and not concussion, as stated by Mr. Mohun. Then again, if the pipes had been broken by concussion, the breakage would have been quite different from what it was, in fact the pipes would have been smashed into pieces of all shapes and sizes instead of the form they were in.

In conclusion, I would advise the ratepayers to supply no more money for sewerage purposes until the work now in hand is thoroughly tested by passing through the coming winter. If it should prove to be all right in the spring it will then be in order to vote more money so that the council of 1893 can carry on the sewerage work already under way.

In regard to the other by-laws coming before the ratepayers on Monday next, I would advise the voters to say "No" to them all except the seventy five thousand dollars to pay for the expenses incurred on account of smallpox, which must be paid.

MECHANIC.

A STARTLING OUTLOOK.

Dear Mr. Editor:—It was real good of you to put in my last letter. Man, it makes a fellow feel it all down his back to see himself in print for the first time. I took a great deal of trouble over it and I would have been sorry if it had been wasted.

My friend the anti-vaccinator is still at it I see, and now that he has got Dr. Sproule to back him up, perhaps they will go on filling up James Bay flats before the millenium, but I don't agree with them at all. My idea is to let these made-ground places slide and vaccinate everybody again. Why, when I look around and see the thousands of people who have been vaccinated, and the lots that didn't take at all, and the lots that took so well that it took them off to their beds, and when I think of what an awful visitation we would have had if nobody had been vaccinated, I just tremble to think of it, and thank goodness we had Dr. Hasell at Ross Bay and Dr. Watt at the E. & N. Railway. It was an awful shock to me though, Mr. Editor, to find that even one bad man had bluffed the stripling doctor and his big policeman with the handcuffs, and had gone into the country as far as Esquimalt to get a sniff of fresh air that hadn't been disinfected. I hope it will not be allowed to happen again.

I have been reading all the letters in your valuable paper, and looking for the sanitary editors of the other papers, but I think they must be away from home, because I can't find any trace of them. I have as well been thinking a good deal about these Health Regulations, but it seems to me that no one has thought of the effect they will have on the population. This is a great big country, without enough people to fill it, and we want a population badly, but perhaps you are not able to see what the regulations have to do with the population. Well, I will tell you.

I am an old bachelor, but suppose I get married and my wife presents me with a bouncing boy. Now if I am one of these anti-vaccination cranks, which I probably will be, seeing they are getting so plentiful, I won't want to have what they call the Jennerian rite (by the bye, Mr. Pope, if it is a rite how can it be wrong?) tried on him, but three months after his birth I have to get him vaccinated or pay a fine, and if I die in four months my heirs, executors and assigns have to do it or pay a fine. Now I am a poor man and can't afford to pay fines, but we'll suppose I meet a brither Scot and strike him for the money, and he's flush, and he lends me a fiver or two. Then all goes well for five or six years, until I want to send my son to public school. "Hello! What's this? Can't let him in till he's been vaccinated." So I must either send him to Mr. Church to learn cricket and football or keep him at home, and then I suppose the Government will drop onto me and say, "Look here, don't you know you must educate that boy, don't you know? Can't have anybody about here that doesn't know his three Rs, don't you know." So I will get it in the neck both ways.

Now what will be the end of all this, Mr. Editor? Sir, the end of it will be that first, I won't get married at all, and, second, if I do, with all these rocks ahead, I just won't have any bouncing boys, or bouncing girls either, I guess. And so you see the population will suffer. Sooner or later, Mr. Editor, it will suffer unless Mr. Theodore Davie and his regulations take a back seat.

APPROACHING COMPLETION.

A Portion of the City Sewers Flushed Last Night and Cleared of all Debris.

Chief Engineer Mohun on the Cause of the Broken Pipe—Capacity of the Sewers.

Part of the sewerage system was flushed, not tested as erroneously stated, last night for a short time and a quantity of mud and debris swept to the man-hole near the Reformed Episcopal church, where it is now being removed. The water, owing to the restricted supply now received in the city, was kept going only a little over an hour, and would have been shut off immediately upon an alarm of fire. This morning a man was sent through that part of the sewers flushed last night, and he will report to the chief engineer. It is expected that more broken pipe may be found and that the damage will prove to have been caused by the same power that broke the other pipes.

A TIMES reporter was in conversation with Chief Engineer Mohun, of the sewerage works to-day, and the latter said: "The discovery that the pipes were broken by the concussion and air pressure caused by the blasting solved the mystery of broken sewerage pipes in many of the eastern cities. Only, these cities were in a much worse predicament than Victoria, for when the pipes were discovered in their fractured state the work had been paid for. This theory and scientific proof of the breaking of the pipes have never before been advanced anywhere; such a thing as the concussion of the blasting breaking the pipes had never been thought of. That this was the cause of the pipes breaking was proved in the clearest manner, for wherever there was a vent hole, so that the air could rush out, the pipes were unharmed, or where the pipes were set in rock, where the air could get on the outside, thus rendering the pressure equal inside and out, they were unbroken. The compression of the air in the narrow channels after each blast was, of course, tremendous; far more than any earthenware pipe could endure. Yet these pipes were in everything fitted for the purpose for which they were intended. They had been subjected to very high pressure; in one test 360 pounds was placed upon the edge of some of the pipes, the resting point being less than one inch, and they showed no sign of crumbling or cracking. Fifty feet of earth packed solid upon these pipes, providing they were properly laid and the pressure equally distributed, would have no effect upon them."

"Could the fire engines pump the sewers full, as alleged by one of the aldermen at a council meeting some time ago?"

"They could not; the whole power of the Victoria fire department could not do it; not even one of the smaller pipes."

"You have full confidence, then, in the capability of the system to carry off any quantity of sewerage possible in Victoria?"

"Perfect confidence. If the engines will only try to pump the sewers full, those who made the assertion will see how much they are mistaken. That is the test I have proposed to the council."

AS GOOD AS NEW.

The Quadra Again in Commission After Her Remarkable Adventures.

The government steamer Quadra, Captain James Gaudin, commander, came out of drydock this morning, steamed round to the Custom House wharf and tied up. She looks as bright and clean as a new shilling, and not at all like a vessel that had been under water a month and gone through the knocking about which she has suffered. The Quadra entered the drydock at Esquimalt on the 24th of June, the Albion Iron Works began operations upon the damaged hull on July 14th, and finished the job two or three days ago. The engines and engine room, examined by a TIMES man this afternoon, gave no evidence of their thirty days' submersion. The machinery glistens like polished silver and the whole room looks scrupulously neat and clean. The cabins have had to be redecorated and painted and the upholsterers are now busy completing the work of renovation. By next Monday the Quadra will be ready for sea and in every respect as good as the day she left Scotland. She will go into commission at once, and the Sir James Douglas, now on a cruise up the coast, will be paid off when she returns, which is expected to be in a few days.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World, Here and Elsewhere.

THE OAR.

MAKING READY FOR SATURDAY.

The entries for the regatta on Saturday close this evening and the programme will be announced to-morrow. The senior fours drew for heats last evening and Ward's and Pegram's crews are matched for the first heat; Jackson's and Askew's crews will row the second heat, and the winners the final bout. The junior fours are represented by McConnan's and Mallandaine's crews, making one race in this class. The two crews are very evenly matched, McConnan's having the weight and muscular power in their favor. Mallandaine and his men, however, are full of "grit," and nobody would be surprised to see them come under the line first. One of the prettiest events of the regatta will be the canoe sailing race from the boat house to the outer wharf and return. The canoe paddling races will be energetically contested by a good "field" of well-practised paddle flourishers who can dig for dear life when there are such handsome prizes to be gained. The managing committee will look after the comfort of all guests on Saturday; the building is to be open to all that day and light refreshments will be served in the afternoon. Music is being arranged for. The ladies will be provided with the best seats, from which to view the course. From the balcony a full view of the course from end to end can be obtained, and with the assistance of an opera glass the movements of the competitors may be watched with ease. If the weather be fair, and the most reliable amateur prophets in the city have promised to do their best for the club that day, the regatta will provide amusement for the general public and the many friends of the club.

FOR THE WINNERS.

A representative of the TIMES this morning was shown the handsome badges offered for the senior four-oared race in the James Bay annual regatta, Saturday. The badges were made by Messrs. Challoner & Mitchell from their own design and are in every way a credit to them. The badge is in the form of a solid silver shield, nearly an eighth of an inch thick; upon this is the monogram of the club, alto relievo, and enamelled in colors. A strong pin at the back of the shield will enable the lucky winners to fasten the pretty memento of the regatta to their manly bosoms. These trophies are worth a good hard struggle.

WHEELING.

There was not a large turn-out at the fortnightly handicap races of the Wanderers' Club at the Driving Park last night. Only F. Dalby and J. Reynard entered in the mile race, the latter having 50 yards handicap. Dalby caught his opponent in the first quarter and won easily. In the two mile race the entries were also two, Jeffree and Reynard, the latter having 200 yards handicap. Jeffree won easily.

Public Appreciation of Bona Fide Bargains.

The great mammoth cheap sale at the Sehl, Hastie, Erskine Co., continues to attract eager buyers, who can readily appreciate a good thing when they see it, the furniture at "less than auction prices" is sure to soon find a place in the homes of our best citizens, while the carpets, curtains, glassware, lamps, baby carriages, etc., are pronounced to be the cheapest yet offered in Victoria. These bargains can only last for a limited time, and those thinking of purchasing are recommended to call in and inspect. To buy now is to save money.
